

Wedding Day Management

Love Notes guarantees a flawless and well-orchestrated event that will be a statement of your personal style both individually and as a couple. For each wedding, we prepare a detailed schedule of events to help control the timing and pace. This timeline is distributed to all vendors prior to event day so they can provide input or make changes in advance. We also help design the layout of the room so that all guest tables, buffet tables, bar and decorative elements are placed in the rooms with a sense of symmetry and synergy.

Love Notes also holds an onsite production meeting with as many vendors as possible to review logistics and walk-through the plans for the wedding. Great effort is made to try to have as many details as possible (e.g., flowers, linen samples and table settings) on hand so that our clients can actually get an idea of how the tables and room will look on the wedding day.

On your wedding day, Love Notes provides onsite management to ensure a progressive flow and tempo. The number of Love Notes staff members available on that day will depend largely on the size and style of your wedding. Love Notes knows that a well-produced event will leave your guests with the "feel-good" experience that you envision. Though some may believe that being fashionably late is okay, we at Love Notes believe that being on time
